238. CLASS RINGS

- .1 The Board recognizes the value individuals may place on the ownership of class rings. The Board regards the purchase of a class ring as a personal decision of students and parents, and not as a necessary function of the school district.
- .2 The Board authorizes the cooperation of the high school officials in providing the service through which class rings may be purchased, according to the following guidelines.
 - .21 The ring purchases should be a project of the sophomore class each year, with the company that sells the rings making them available to members of the class under the year of their graduation.
 - .22 The ring should be purchased as a class on bids from companies who are interested in doing business with the class, including local jewelers.
 - .23 Members of each class shall have the option of using the design of a previous class, or having a ring designed especially for them.
