the end Cameron Heyward — made him the first defensive player in franchise history to score in back-to-back weeks.

Every game Minkah Fitzpatrick is making big plays on the field,” Dupree said. “It’s not just us as rushers and defensive linemen up front, it’s the defense that makes it that much easier to play.”

It certainly looks that Pittsburgh heads to Cleveland (3-6) on Thursday night, the second wild-card spot in the AFC, heady considering it lost quarterback Ben Roethlisberger in mid-September. The Steelers were 1-4 last month following an embarrassing loss to Baltimore. Now, they’ve surprised.

The defense that’s long on potential but short on production in recent years is playing with a fever that’s contagious. “I think we’re slowly being hit by that scary defense that nobody wants to play,” Dupree said.

What’s working

Defensive coordinator Dick LeBeau walked into the locker room on Sunday night, pointed to quarterbacks Mason Rudolph and Barron finished with 10 tackles and a pass defended against his former team.

Stock down

The punt return game remains a mess. Ryan Switzer fielded a punt at the 5 in the fourth quarter and went nowhere, setting up a Los Angeles safety. Rookie Diontae Johnson had a season-best 14-yard return, but also fumbled.

Injured

Running back James Conner has a chance to return against Cleveland after missing two games with a shoulder injury. Starting guard Ramon Foster could also be back after recovering from a concussion.

Key numbers

15-4-1: Pittsburgh’s record in Cleveland since the Browns returned in 1999.

QB Haskins to start for rest of season

By the Associated Press

ASHBURN, Va. — Dwayne Haskins’ time has finally come.

The Washington Redskins on Monday named Haskins their starting quarterback for the rest of the season. The 15th overall draft pick takes over with Washington 1-8 and the New York Jets up next Sunday.

“We’ve got a lot of confidence in Dwayne,” interim coach Bill Callahan said in announcing the much-expected move. “He’s worked hard, he’s smart, he studies, he prepares, so this will be a great opportunity for him going forward.”

Haskins is 27 of 44 for 284 yards with no touchdowns and four interceptions in three appearances — two in relief and a start Nov. 3 at Buffalo. The Jets game will be his second NFL start.

“It helps to have a full week of preparation where you’re the starter,” second-year receiver Trey Quinn said. “I’m looking forward to seeing him grow because he’s a talent. He’s definitely a talent, so sky’s the limit right now for him. It’s just up to him to take the extra time and learn on his own.”

Previous coach Jay Gruden and Callahan had been reluctant to hand the reins over to Haskins because he looked much more like a long-term project than a ready-made professional quarterback. Veteran Case Keenum started seven of the first eight games and longtime backup Colt McCoy the other.

But Haskins showed enough in his audition against the Bills to earn the full-time role. Callahan liked Haskins’ consistency and decisiveness in completing 15 of 22 passes with a limited playbook.
